Q4 PRIDE REWARDS QUALIFICATIONS

- Zero Discipline Referrals (including ISAP, lunch detention, or office referrals)
- Zero Tardies
- Zero Unexcused Absences

This week, our middle school students concluded the scheduled state assessment. We are so proud of the work they have done this year and the effort they gave in demonstrating their knowledge. High school students experienced “Adulting Day” this week. Guest speakers provided our high schoolers with unique learning opportunities on how to succeed beyond the classroom. In Ms. Isaac’s classroom, seniors were learning about taxes. Students were practicing their welding skills in preparation for an assessment in Mr. Johnson’s class. In Ms. Norman’s class, students were creating company handbooks. Students were excited to share with me what they are working on, and they explained to me how they could apply what they are learning in the real world after high school. I’m grateful that students are gaining real world experience in the classroom with their teachers even when it is not “Adulting Day.”

We celebrated Professional Administrative Day by thanking our administrative staff with flowers! We are grateful for these ladies who open the door to learning for our students.

Our Teacher of the Year, Jenna Wilson, and Staff of the Year, Cathy Braun, were recognized over the weekend at the Greater Clark Education Foundation’s Champions for Children. We are so grateful for our wonderful staff and were excited to celebrate these two women who have gone above and beyond to support their students and colleagues this year.

We have less than a month before the end of the school year, and there are many activities that have been planned for students to celebrate their accomplishments.
